Notable features:

The buildings are 14 feet wide and have a certain architectural grace. Number 23 has segmental arches over the windows. Numbers 25 and 27 have wood lintels. These may well be the only houses that remain of a group which also included numbers 17, 19 and 21, although because of the size of the lots of the latter they may have been slightly later houses. The very steep roof, the dormers and the big, double chimneys indicate age and give them character.

Environmental context:

Vacant lots to south and playground across-street plus vacant lots to rear. These should be kept due to their early date however and their scale on the small street. Redesign should be done around them.
